As I'm 72 & still practising Acupuncture with Osteopathy & Chiropractic, with great success & have done since graduating at the Acupuncture Colleges Of Australia in Paddington NSW in 1973 when the Principal was Mr. Russell Jewell.

I do not use herbs only Acupuncture, mostly for musculo-skeletal problems of all kinds in all ages down to 13 YO's. I've practised continually for the whole 40 years & have an untarnished reputation, being registered as both Chiro & Osteo since the first Registration in 1980, though I've practised Chiro & Osteo since graduating in Ashfield in 1971.

Would I qualify for registration under your new proposed Grandparenting Registration Standard?
